

What's on

Our season runs from October to September, the last meeting being our AGM when the new season is announced.

During each season we have a number of speakers who are chosen to discuss such technical aspects of the craft as details of various genre writing styles, how to get published, how to create convincing characters and so on.

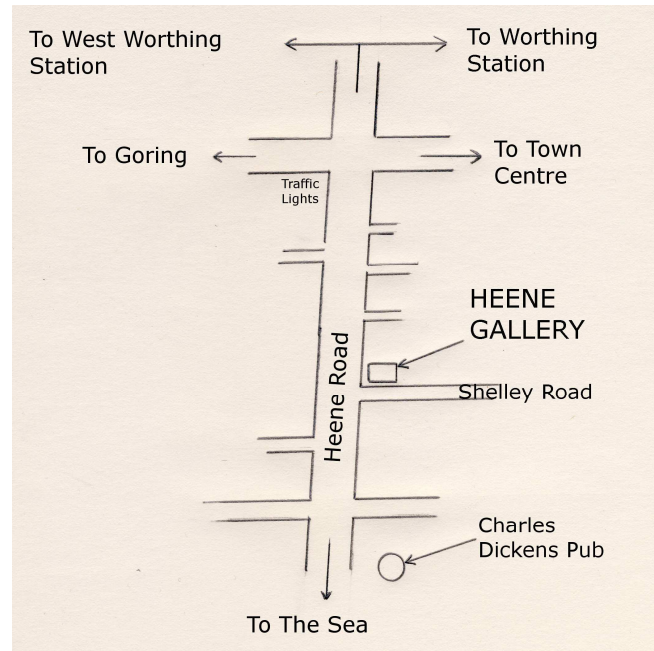

In addition we have workshops, designed to stimulate the mind without making anyone feel exposed or nervous.

Once a year we hold a slam event, where members are able to read their work within a time limit and are judged by their peers. This is a fun event from both an audience and a participant perspective.

The August meeting is a purely social event-, though we do still maintain a writing link to whatever we arrange for this occasion.

Throughout the year, we also run a number of competitions that are only open to members. The competitions cover such categories as short stories, poetry, writing for children, non-fiction, scriptwriting, travel and novel writing and more. This gives members the opportunity to write what they are good at or to try something new and get some useful feedback from the judges, even if they don't win.

Are you a writer? Would you like to become a writer or have an interest in writing?

Then why not join us at West Sussex Writers?

Our monthly meetings feature various events, workshops, competitions and speakers - all designed to stimulate the writer in you!

About us

WSW has been in existence since 1937. We are a friendly and open bunch of published and unpublished writers who aim to assist with the general development of our members' writing skills, through the events we present each month and through our monthly newsletter, our website and generally through opportunities to network and develop links within the writing world.

Over the years, we have had and still have a number of well known writers within our group but membership is open to anyone who is interested in writing- you do not need to be published. We also do not have any geographical boundaries (as our name might suggest) so you do not have to live in West Sussex to join us. So why not come along and give us a try?
